

VALENTINE CRISPY cake recipe

To make around 20 small heart shaped lollipops you will need:

25g butter :: 170g marshmallows :: 120g rice crispy cereal ::
sprinkles, jelly sweets or red laces for decoration :: lollipop sticks

Put the butter and marshmallows in a large pan. Heat gently and stir until all the marshmallows have melted.

Add the rice crispy cereal and stir gently until all the cereal is coated with the marshmallow mixture.

Add in any sprinkles for extra decoration.

There two ways you can make your heart shapes.

:: line cookie cutters with cling wrap and then fill well with the rice crispy mixture. Leave to cool and then pop out the shapes.

:: line a baking tin (about 25cm square) with baking paper and fill with the rice crispy mixture. Flatten down the surface with the back of a spoon.

You need the hearts to be fairly thick (2cm+) so there is room to push in the lollipop sticks later. You might like to add some extra sprinkles on the surface of the hearts while the marshmallow is still sticky.

Once the rice crispy mix has cooled, cut out your heart shapes with a cookie cutter.

Flip the cutter over as you cut along to fit more hearts in.

Carefully push a lollipop stick into each heart to make your lollipops.

For extra fun you can add jelly sweets on to the lollipops. Just brush a tiny bit of water over the surface of the lollipop as a little 'glue' and press on the sweets. You could use Red Laces sweets to write words or make kisses.

If you're giving the lollipops as gifts you can wrap them with a piece of cellophane and fasten with a red rubber band or a piece of ribbon.
