How to play

- :: 1 Print the snowflakes onto card or thick paper
- :: 2 Use them to make snowflake bunting or a number line
- :: 3 Use the snowflakes to play matching games or for addition & subtraction
- :: 4 Place the snowflakes in a sensory tub and hunt out the numbers
- :: 5 Use the snowflake numbers for a treasure hunt - hide them around the room, house or outdoors and see if your child can find all ten
- :: 6 Draw over the numbers with a pencil to practise correct number formation
- :: 7 Use a white wax crayon to write numbers or letters on the blank snowflakes. Then paint over the whole of the snowflakes with watercolour paint to 'magically' reveal your white number / letter
